

TERMS OF REFERENCE

Background:

The main objective of RCDC and Misereor program is decentralized resource governance to exercise community control over local resources for environmental conservation, food and livelihood security of the tribal communities and other traditional forest dwellers of 40 villages in Balangir and Rayagada districts. The current project “Ensuring Sustainable Food and Livelihood Security of Tribal and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers through customary and ancestral practices and rights in the Districts of Balangir and Rayagada, Odisha’ is focused on demonstrating and strengthening community-based food sovereignty through traditional and local food basket promotion, decentralized resource governance model promotion and its replication. Organic way of farming (with reference to community tradition and culture, cultural food practices, indigenous seed collection, propagation and cultivation) is the priority and the objective is to keep the market away from that target communities. The whole program is based on People Led Development (PLD) approach where people themselves are agents of development transformation. The entire development agenda is identified, designed, led and implemented by the people.
